This award winning and well-established British Company is now recruiting in all areas of the UK. This company supplies savings on a wide range of utility services including home phone, sim cards, broadband, gas, electricity and insurances.

They are looking for partners nationwide who are looking to get started right away by working remotely from home. You have the freedom to choose the hours to suit you and you can work around other work and family commitments.

A refundable deposit of £50 is required to help you get started. There's an online support and training programme which includes a comprehensive package of digital marketing materials giving you everything you need to build your own successful business. There is a lucrative upfront payment scheme as well as ongoing residual payments and bonuses.

With flexible remote working hours that suit you, you could achieve your own financial freedom and build yourself a better future.

- Work remotely in the mornings, afternoons, evenings or weekends
- Fit around children or other family commitments
- This can also be worked alongside your current job

There's never been a better time to join this award-winning PLC.
